

Robert Visalli is from Johnstown, Pennsylvania and attended the University of Pittsburgh where he completed his BS in Mechanical Engineering in 1966 and an MS in Mechanical Engineering in 1971. He is currently the CEO and Chairman of the Board of Kerotest Manufacturing Corp, an employee-owned company based in Pittsburgh.

Bob's nuclear experience started with Westinghouse's Plant Apparatus Division, which supplies equipment for nuclear submarines and carriers. He also worked at Westinghouse's Nuclear Energy Systems on commercial reactors before joining Kerotest as a Nuclear Marketing Consultant in 1972.

He served on ASME's Nuclear Codes & Standards committees, in particular the Section III Working Group on Valves and the committee writing the Functional Qualification Requirements for Power Operated Active Valve Assemblies.